Dear Ms. Annabel;

Thank you for encouraging responsible line handling and facilitating monofilament line recycling with the "Line-off" line removal tool. By educating fishers about the importance of keeping line out of the environment and providing a tool to easily change line, you are promoting watershed stewardship and helping keep our waterways line-free. New line is suppler and less likely to snap during fishing, so changing line frequently reduces the amount of line lost in the environment and the number of "big fish that got away!" Recycling line promotes responsible line handling and provides another source of plastics that can be used for a variety of manufactured products. With that said, I am pleased to endorse the "Line-off" line removal tool. Thank you for your commitment to a clean, healthy aquatic environment!

Sincerely;
